

25th June 2010

ROOM 3 - HOMEWORK

INTERESTING WORDS

This week we have been working really hard to try to use some exciting words in our story writing, to add interest and detail. Which sentence do you think sounds better? 1. I went to the shops and got some lollies. 2. I couldn't wait to open the packet of shiny red lollies that I bought from the shop.

Literacy

Could you write a sentence or even a story about the picture on your homework sheet. What interesting words could you use to make your story really exciting. How about these for story starters "It was a mistake to take my dragon to school, because", "One night, I looked out the window and...", "There was something strange about my next door neighbour...". We would love to read your stories - or publish them on the blog.

Numeracy

Can you practise counting in lots of 5 at home? Could you also practise making up some sums that have 5 as one of the numbers? e.g.  $5 + 1 = ?$   $4 + ? = 9$ . The number 5 is such an important number for helping us to remember basic facts - it would be great if you could practise these sums.

BLOG!!

Stuck for a story starter - check out the website I have put on the blog....it's great to get you started! <http://kilbirnieroom3.blogtown.co.nz> / You can also find this through the school website.

Old socks!!

Can you find an old sock at home to use in the classroom next week?

